

MEXICAN SITUATION IS NOW CENTER OF PUBLIC INTEREST

Fall Resolution to Recall Recognition of Carranza Government and Sever Relations up Today

Enormous Shipment of Arms from Spain to Carranza Adherents is Reported Contemplated

SAM FREED,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 4.—There were explosive elements in the Mexican situation today. The factor pressing onward to a real crisis between the two nations are:

1. The Fall committee's investigation of Mexico's relations with this country. In addition to evidence the committee will make public, Senator Falls is expected to make good his threat to "astound the world." Interventionists count heavily on the committee to strengthen their position.

2. Enormous shipments of arms and ammunition is reported being planned in Spain for the Carranza government.

3. The Jenkins case. This issue is not favored by American border officials for a show down, but contributes to show in Carranza a "lack of good faith" they say.

4. More Americans are in Mexico than at any time since President Taft's first warning to Americans to leave that country. Americans have flocked into the Tampico oil region. The boom of the silver market has rushed hundreds of Americans to the Mexican camps. At Paraiso the Americans sleep behind a stockade heavily armed and with a sentry on guard to prevent a sudden attack.

Following the introduction of Senator Fall's resolution to sever diplomatic relations with Mexico, the border today rang with rumors. "That the marines would go in and get Jenkins, and that the war department is planning an invasion," have reached headquarters here.

Non-interventionists still hope that President Wilson will block war, that the maneuvers of the presidential campaign would postpone a Mexican war, at least until after 1920, and hope that an iron man would rise up in Mexico and pacify it suitably for America.

Fall Resolution Being Considered
L. C. MARTIN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Dec. 4.—Beginning consideration of Senator Fall's resolution directing the president to sever diplomatic relations with Mexico, the foreign relations committee today questioned Henry Fletcher, United States ambassador to Mexico, its first witness.

Meanwhile the state department waited for a reply to its second note requesting immediate release of Wm. O. Jenkins, jailed at Pueblo. So far as this government knows Jenkins is still in prison. The questioning of Fletcher followed a long statement by Senator Fall in which he laid before the committee evidence which he said proved that Carranza is at the back of all propaganda system in this country, comparative in extent and viciousness to Germany's efforts before America's entrance into the war.

Senator Fall testified before the committee in secret session. Senator Hitchcock offered the committee a substitute for the Fall resolution, providing that if President Wilson shall see fit to break diplomatic relations with Mexico, congress would back him up. The committee did not vote on either the Fall resolution or Hitchcock substitute. Secretary Lansing was called to appear this afternoon.

Withdrawal of Recognition of Carranza Gov.

As Provided in Fall Resolution Will be Considered by Foreign Relations Committee Today

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Dec. 4.—The senate foreign relations committee today was to take up Senator Fall's resolution for withdrawal of American recognition of the Carranza government and sever all diplomatic relations.

The present impression was that the committee would report favorably on the resolution probably after considerable discussion.

Administration senators will oppose it on the ground that its passage at this time would prove an embarrassment to the state department which is trying diplomatic means to adjust this. Adoption of the resolution would participate a crisis by inflaming the Mexican government against the United States. The danger lies in forgetting that if the resolution is passed and President Wilson should follow with recommendations then break up relations with Carranza and withdraw all American diplomatic agents from Mexico, Wm. Jenkins would probably not be released by authorities at Pueblo and it would then become incumbent upon this government to try to get him by force. This, administration leaders held, would mean nothing less than war.

With President Wilson's repressive influence temporarily removed, it is not likely, some senators said, that congress will take definite action on the Mexican question.

Senator Fall today planned to lay before the committee what he called undisputed proof that Mexican Ambassador Bonillas here and the Mexican consuls in San Francisco and other cities have distributed I. W. W. and anti-American propaganda in the United States.

Villa Betrayed by Own Men

And Surrendered to Carranza Commanders for 15,000 Pesos. Reported But Not Confirmed

(By United Press)

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 4.—A rumor that Francisco Villa has been betrayed by his own men and taken prisoner and offered to Carranza's commander at Paraiso yesterday for the reward of 15,000 pesos, was still unconfirmed officially here early today. No credit was given the rumor here or at Juarez. The rumor started originally with the Carranza railroad men. Consul Ganzia today said a reply to his message for confirmation or denial of Villa's capture was expected.

300 Germans Listed For War Crimes

To be Surrendered to the Allies for Trial—Not Decided Whether They Will Be Tried Singly or in a Body

Paris, Dec. 4.—The list of persons responsible for war crimes whom Germany must give up contains more than three hundred names it was learned today. The peace conference has not decided whether they will be tried as a body or singly.

The supreme council today took up the question of making effective the treaty of peace with Germany. Its conclusions were not made public. Marshal Poincare today granted an audience with Prince Alexander, Serbian regent.

Speculating on War With Mexico

Army Strength Now 180,000 Men. While Experts Believe 450,000 Will be Needed for Three Years

Washington, D.C., Dec. 4.—The United States has 25,000 men and two cruisers within easy striking distance of Mexico ready to go into action should hostilities follow the threatened severance of diplomatic relations, it was learned today by the war and navy departments.

Reports that naval reserves had been ordered to get ready were denied at the navy department.

The 25,000 available troops are with the aviation establishment, but there are also units of infantry, field artillery and cavalry. In addition there are nearly 14,000 cavalry men of the Texas guard who could be called.

The United States Cruisers Dolphin and Niagara are stationed in the Gulf of Mexico. Three destroyers are now going up the coast of Central America to join the Pacific fleet. Two others are at Guantanamo about to follow. The strength of the army in the United States today is less than 180,000 men. The war department has estimated that it would take 450,000 troops three years to completely "pacify" Mexico.

Alexander's Name Sent to Senate

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Wilson today sent to the senate the nomination of Joshua Willis Alexander of Missouri to be secretary of commerce to succeed Wm. C. Redfield, who resigned.

"Watchful Waiting" is Treaty Attitude

Of the Administration Supporters. Hoping for a Big Public Demand to Make Itself

HUGH BAILLIE,
(Written for the United Press)

Washington, Dec. 4.—The attitude of the administration today with regard to the peace treaty is that of "watchful waiting." Believing that a great popular demand for ratification will come from the country within the next few weeks President Wilson is keeping "hands off" the present situation waiting for this demand to materialize according to numerous indications.

The president refrained from directly mentioning the treaty in his message to congress, it is believed, with the idea that further argument was useless.

He is "wrapped up in the treaty" was the expression used by some of his advisors in describing the situation.

Recommendation of President Wilson for a third term at the state convention at Pierre, S. D., was interpreted by the president's supporters as an endorsement of the treaty and an answer to arguments of those who claim the pact is so dead the democrats will not want to exhumate it and make it an issue in 1920.

Opponents of the treaty openly scoffed at the idea the nation will demand ratification. They say if any wave of popular sentiment was forthcoming it would have been apparent early in October.

Many congressmen returning to Washington after having talked to constituents at home say there is practically no interest in the treaty and people are forgetting it and devoting their attention to the coal shortage and present domestic problems.

Bank Robber Arrested in Los Angeles

Admits Robbing Minneapolis Bank of $17,000 and Numerous Other Robberies

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Dec. 4.—Ed Hudson of McGregor, Wis., who admitted, according to officials, to robbing the Bank of Minneapolis of $17,000 and staging a $7,000 holdup at Keokuk, Iowa, early this year, was in jail here today.

Hudson, according to Sheriff Cline, confessed he is one of the three bandits who robbed the Hellman bank here last Monday afternoon. A posse of deputies is on the trail of the other two robbers said by Hudson to be Arthur and Herbert Brown, brothers, from Wisconsin. The three are said to have escaped from the Minnesota state penitentiary. Jane Smith of Minneapolis was arrested with Hudson.

Eastman Called to Chicago to Testify on Pan Motor Trial

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Subpoena for Alvah Eastman, owner and publisher of the St. Cloud Journal Press to testify in the trial of Pan Motor Co. officials here, was issued today by Judge K. M. Landis.

The Journal Press was alleged to have printed in 1917 the statement that Samuel Pandolfo, president of the Pan Motor Co., had completed arrangements for Lee & Graze, Indianapolis automobile engineers, for designing the Pan cars.

A letter introduced today showed that arrangements had not been completed at that time. Pandolfo, on the stand this morning, contended the people who wrote letters of recommendation for him had no right to change their minds regarding his property.

He made this statement in reply to questions by Asst. Atty. Benjamin Epstein as to whether or not he had the right to continue his letters of recommendation as the writers had changed their minds.

Democrats and Republicans Split on Tax Pension

Glass Wants to Repeal Excess Profits Tax and Increase Income Taxes

(By United Press)

Washington, Dec. 4.—A new contest between democratic senators and republican congressmen over the revision of the revenue law was apparent today. Both agree there must be revenue to meet the reconstruction of peace time expenditures but agreement there is ended.

Secretary Glass figures the president wants a revision started at once. Republican leaders say it will be done at this session of congress.

Secretary Glass wants excess profits taxes abolished and an increase in normal income tax rates and surtax rates on intermediate incomes. Republican leaders say they are doubtful about raising sufficient revenue if this is done. The revenue bill for 1920 was enacted at the last session of the 65th congress. Glass contended that the present session should plan a bill for 1920 so that business will know in advance what taxes it will have to pay.

There is a tradition that a party which plans a revenue measure just before election fairs badly at the hands of voters, but congressional leaders deny they have this belief in mind in delaying it.

Peace Council Not Notified Germany Will Not Sign

(By United Press)

Paris, Dec. 4.—The peace conference has received no notification from Kurt Von Lerener, German representative, that Germany will refuse to sign the protocol, it was authoritatively stated today.

A report was circulated by certain newspaper agencies yesterday that Von Lerener had notified Paul Ducelet, secretary of the peace conference, that Germany had decided not to sign the protocol which provides for carrying out the terms of the treaty.

All Stores and Factories in Illinois on Six Hour Basis

No Specials for Business or Pleasure Will be Allowed and no Parlor or Lounge Cars Will be Used

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Passenger train service on all western railway lines from Chicago to the Pacific coast will be cut one-third beginning Monday, December 8. This action was decided upon here today at a conference of three western regional directors, R. H. Ashton, northwest region; Hale Holden, central western region, and B. F. Bush, southwest region. Coal shortage is the reason.

The reduction will average a one-third cut in train miles run of trains, elimination varying with local conditions. No special trains are to be run for business or pleasure. No second sections of railroad trains are allowed. Overflow traffic to wait for later trains. No parlor or lounge cars may be used. An appeal for people in all large cities in the districts included are asked to refrain from unnecessary travel.

84 Union Heads Cited By Court; Allege Contempt

Effort to End Strike Brings New Angle; Officers Prosecuted Under Injunction Order

Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—The United States government today again invoked the powers of the federal courts in an effort to end the strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners of the country.

Information charging criminal contempt of court was filed in the United States district court here against 84 international and district officers of the United Mine Workers of America, named in the court injunction issued immediately after the strike was called and requiring their appearance to answer the charges. It is alleged that all of the officers have conspired to keep the strike in force and thus have violated the terms of the injunction.

Four Are Notified

Acting President John L. Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer William Green, Percy Tetlow, statistician, and Ellis Seales, editor of the Mine Workers' Journal, the only officials of the organization in Indianapolis, were notified of the action and agreed to report in court tomorrow to furnish bond, fixed at $10,000 by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson.

Dan W. Simms of Lafayette, Ind., special United States district attorney in charge of enforcement of the injunction, said that proceedings against officers of two local unions at Clinton, Ind., also would be instituted very soon, charging them specifically with violations of the injunction by payment of strike benefits to miners. Local No. 2011 officials, he declared, had paid benefits by check, attempting to "camouflage" the real nature of the action by stating that they were for over payment of dues. Local No. 35, he said, drew one check for $800 and distributed currency among its members.

Hold Banks Responsible

In connection with the issuance of strike benefits, Mr. Simms again declared that the injunction extends to any person whether or not a miner, who in any way encouraged the strike and said that banks which honored checks drawn against a strike benefit fund were liable to prosecution.

Mr. Simms stated that the citations against the men named today were only a start in the prosecution against alleged violators of the injunction and that the action might be expected soon.

Non-Partisan Librar- ie's Selection of Books

For the Traveling Libraries of North Dakota—Free Love and Socialism Taught

Bismarek, N. D., Dec. 4—Books extolling the principles of "free love" are about to be handed out to citizens of North Dakota in their traveling libraries, when they make request for works on "social problems" to read in their homes. This was one of the startling facts discovered by the special committee of the house named to investigate O. M. Burness' charges against the state library commission.

The charges made a profound impression, and there could be no question about them except on the matter of responsibility. Mr. Burness displayed one of the books, Ellen Key's "Love and Ethics," bearing the label of the state traveling library, and the copious extracts he read from the little book made sober men of family fairly gasp.

The introduction to the book refers to "Ellen Key's startling views on the marriage relation" in "Love and Marriage," a former work. Here are some of Miss Key's latest pronouncements:

"In 'Love and Marriage,' I pointed out that those who insist on monogamy, that is, life long love relationship between the sexes, disregard the inevitable consequences of such an ethical standard, namely, the waste of a large amount of splendid life energy which, if utilized, would produce fine offspring. Under present social conditions this standard of morality would hinder the improvement of the species.

"The modern sex problem consists in finding the proper equilibrium between on the one hand the requirements for the improvements of the species, and on the other hand, the increased demands of the individual to be happy in love, whereas formerly the problem was only between society's demands for fixed marriage

IF BACK HURTS
BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

MALVEN NORBY

Concert of Young Tenor Singer at Clara Lutheran Church Auspices Young People

Friday evening the concert of Malven Norby, distinguished young tenor, will be given at the Clara Lutheran church, as the Swedish Lutheran church will hereafter be known.

Press notices speak very highly of Mr. Norby.

Rudolf Moeller of the Washington Post, Seattle, Wash., writes:

Malven Norby's song recital last Thursday evening in the Norwegian church, Stewart and Boren, had drawn a big audience of music-loving people to hear the young tenor sing. Mr. Norby has a high, clear, tenor voice with beautiful quality, and understands how to use it to the best advantage, as to impress his audience. In his last encore number, Tostie's "Good-Bye," his voice came to his own, with dramatic expression and much power in the higher register. It is very interesting for people out here on the coast to hear a Norwegian tenor, as the chances are so few.

The Mount Vernon Herald of Mt. Vernon, Wash., states:

The concert given at the First church last night by the Norwegian tenor, Malven Norby, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Norby has a very pleasing personality and his voice is clear and melodious. The audience would not go till the singer had given several encore numbers after the close of his program.

DRESSES FITTED TO FIGURE

Style Necessitates More Closely Molded Corset; Waistline "Nipped;" Bust Raised.

The silhouette is determined by the figure lines. This being the case it follows that when there is a decided change in the latter there must be a corresponding change in corsets. Sometimes it is the particular differentiation in dress styles that brings about the alteration in corsets, or that makes imperative a new silhouette. The relation between the corset and the outer garment in their combined effect on the silhouette is so exceedingly important one cannot be affected without influencing the other.

This season there appears to be an effort to awaken interest in the silhouette with the old-fashioned waist and the resultant prominence to hip lines, we find dresses fitted to the figure, in the old-time acceptance of the term. There may not be whalebones or their substitutes, but the general effect suggests a more closely molded corset, the waistline "nipped," the bust raised and the hips slightly widened.

Women with "figures," as figures used to be in the days before the advent of the revolutionary straight-front corset, will doubtless be glad to adopt the prototype of the stays of some two decades ago. And the corset designers admit that should such an adoption reach worth-while proportions it would mean a marvelous business for the corset trade.

Whatever is conducive to universal change in the world of fashion is beneficial to those engaged in the exploitation of any given article by such change. Business is stimulated, more work is provided for every department and the countless ramifications thereof, and the pulse of prosperity quickened accordingly.

A TAX COMPARISON

An inquiry was sent to a number of cities close about us for the tax rates last year, and the tax levy this year which governs the payment next year.

It clearly shows that other cities are facing just the same situation Brainerd is facing and that they are solving it by raising the tax levy. In two instances it remains the same and in one instance it is less.

It will be readily seen that if Brainerd raises its assessment to 23 mills that our city will then enjoy a lower rate than the majority of cities noted below. It should not be forgotten that the 3 mills asked for is in the nature of an emergency fund and is thoroughly safeguarded.

The following assessment is for the CITY tax only, and does include state, county nor schools:

	1918 mills assessed	1919 mills assessed
Int. Falls	31.50
Recheater	19.00
Albert Lea	23.10	23.50
Faribault	21.85	26.00
Crookston	15.00	15.00
Mankato	27.40	33.30
Alexandria	30.30
Detroit	22.80	19.00
Owatonna	18.10	20.85
Cloquet	22.50
St. Cloud	21.40	30.40
Staples	35.90
Bismarck, N. D.	24.90
Austin	22.90
Red Wing	23.70	26.80
Fergus Falls	20.00	20.00
BRainerd	24.85	?

* 1919 assessment not yet determined but thought it would be higher than last year.

The 4.85 mills assessment in addition to the 20 mill levy was occasioned by the judgment of the state.

SEATTLE GANG GOT THE MONEY

The Spokane Labor World says that in the Tom Mooney release campaign nearly $10,000 was raised in Seattle, and not one cent of it was spent for the defense of the imprisoned man, and it adds:

"More than $6,000 went for salaries, while almost $3,000 went into the pockets of the committee for miscellaneous expense. Not only did these 'defenders' of Mooney rob the workers of thousands of dollars, but as the letter of President Short of the Washington State Federation of Labor points out, used the funds sent in good faith in a desperate attempt to disrupt the American Federation of Labor movement. President Short and the executive committee are doing the right thing by exposing the fakery."

RELIGIOUS FANATICISM

Why are men, in all ages, so slow to use common sense and reason in religion? What is the reason men hesitate to use the same intelligence on religious subjects as they do on other subjects? Why are men more willing to take things for granted, without due examination, in religious teachings than they do in teachings of other matters? Why has the church, during the centuries, been antagonistic to science? Science simply means an exact knowledge of the facts in nature.

There may be many reasons for this. The most prominent are, perhaps, that religious subjects are more difficult to understand, and that the selfishness of the more intellectual have caused them to foster ignorance, prejudice and superstition, rather than light and knowledge, in order that they would the more easily control and dominate. This domination, in Russia, for an example, is now reaping its bitter fruit. The reaction has set in. The people say: "To hell with the church, it's a humbug." The reaction is equal to the action. The greater the religious slavery the greater its counterpart; the condemnation by the slaves of their masters.

One cause for all religious and political infidelity is abuse of power over human souls. It is this abuse which is the cause for the present day unrest, religious, political and economical. A great crisis is at hand. Reconstruction is its logical consequence. The world as a whole is ready for a new and a more just order of society. We have all to gain nothing to lose by the turmoil. We may suffer more or less during the adjustment, but this suffering can not be compared with the benefit which must finally appear.

Religion, politics and business go together. Many ignorantly say: "Don't mix it." It is forever mixed if we like it or not. Men in their religious ignorance, prejudice and superstition are very sensitive and the Press will not do much to enlighten the public and take the risk of an antagonism which can be avoided by silence. They may understand that a true light on religious subjects is very important and that men's moral obligations are the most important of all. Morality is in fact the harmonious relationship which an individual sustains to Nature's Constructive Principle. A life in harmony with this principle develops the soul, builds up the character and puts in process that which in religious phraseology is called "salvation."

When we understand what Salvation really is we will also understand the "Scheme of redemption" and the mission of Jesus. Controversy, prejudice, and superstition will be eliminated in proportion as men are willing to use common sense and reason in religion as they do on material and mechanical subjects.

Why is religious teaching banished from our schools? Because the spirit of fanaticism still lingers in our churches. The wise men who wrote the constitution of our government understood the necessity of leaving the religious teaching out. The time is nearer, however, when religious teaching will be the most prominent in our public schools. We may change its name, perhaps, and call it moral teaching because that is what a true religious teaching must be. The speculative theology of the ages is mostly rubbish which will be burned on a fire of purification. We profess to be followers of Jesus. He did not formulate any creed; he never wrote or spoke a constitution of a church; he never even gave a name to his religion. He was simply the voice of God in the valley of earth life. Why? Because he understood the selfishness of unregenerated human character. He saw that men would take his name, the force of his spirit and teaching and use it for selfish ends. Use it to retard the kingdom of truth and righteousness. Use it to build up churches rather than to enlighten human souls.

Truth is permanent and always near us whether we recognize it or not. It is inherent in human souls. It must, therefore, sooner or later, be recognized and the individual set free to use his God-given powers of intelligence in attaining knowledge. Alfred Tennyson said not long ago: "When men attain certain vision, they will know no country, nationality or creed; they belong to the democracy of the universal."

BACK TO NATURE

Agricultural Department Renews Faith in Old Maxims.

Experts Have Come to the Conclusion That There is Much More Than Superstition in "Signs" Our Forefathers Noted.

The problem of making agricultural superstitions into agricultural data is being studied by experts of the department of agriculture, who declare that many old maxims handed down from father to son for generations are not really superstitions at all, but helpful information discovered by keenly observant persons.

Everybody has heard some of the old maxims. They deal with every variety of agricultural operation. Bean planting, for instance, never was done by the forefathers of the present generation at the time of the blossoming of the blackberry bushes. When the chickens had formed on maple trees it was a sign from nature that early gardening might commence. And toward the close of the season warning of frost was given by the maturing of cockleburrs.

Now the department of agriculture declares that there is a best time for every farm and garden operation, and that some tree or shrub or plant indicates that time more accurately than all the scientific instruments can register it. It is those signs which were noted by the pioneers who laid the foundation of this country and recorded in the simple sayings handed down to posterity. Soon they will be dignified with the scientific name of "phenology," which is the science of phenomena.

Collection of natural signs into the science of phenology probably was begun with a campaign against the Hessian fly. Experts were endeavoring to determine the best time for planting wheat so that the sowing would be late enough to prevent ruin by the pest and yet early enough for the grain to get a start before cold weather.

It was easy enough to work out the general rule that the season varies four days for each one degree of latitude, five degrees of longitude and 400 feet of altitude, but as no two seasons are just the same the rule could tell only approximately when the farmer should do his sowing.

In seeking for a more exact guide, Dr. A. D. Hopkins of the department forsook the cold realm of scientific formulae for "back-to-nature" information. As plants respond to climatic conditions and not to dates, it was decided that some natural indication would give the information desired.

It is now claimed that observation has proved that the best time for sowing wheat is that period between the full blooming of tall late goldenrod and the time when the white, common Japanese clematis flowers are nearly all gone or the leaves are distinctly colored on the dogwood and hickories.

What has been done for wheat will be done for other crops, but the working out of the signs will be a slow process. Meanwhile every farmer and even the city gardener have their own guides at hand, if they have eyes to see. Thus has the superstition and folklore of days called primitive been justified by the advanced science of the twentieth century.

Historic Stonehenge.

The old temple, now known as Stonehenge, has withstood the ravages of weather, time, and man himself for 35 centuries. The people who built it belonged to the neolithic period, or age of polished stones. Iron was unknown to them, but bronze implements, such as swords and spear heads, were just beginning to be introduced. They were far too expensive, however, to be in general use, and the chisels used in cutting the stones were also of stone. These are found in great numbers near by, where the workers threw them after they had worn out.

AMUSEMENTS

At the New Park Theatre Today and Tomorrow

Known to her thousands of admirers as "the sweetest girl in motion pictures," Marguerite Clark has a nationwide following. In her latest Paramount picture, "Rich Man, Poor Man," based upon the novel by Maximilian Foster and directed by J. Searle Dawley, she has a captivating role that will prove a powerful magnet to the motion picture theatres of the country.

In this excellent photoplay which was adapted for the screen by George Broadhurst, the playwright, Miss Clark will be seen as an orphan girl in a boarding house who, innocent of the falsity of her position, is accepted as the grandchild of a Wall Street financier, as the result of the forgery of a man who desires to make her happy. She brings sunshine into the life of the crabbed old millionaire who, even when he discovers the imposture practiced upon him, refuses to allow her to leave his bedside.

It chances that Betty loves a young man who is in fact, the grandson of the capitalist, so that all ends happily after all. Miss Clark is supported by excellent players, chief among whom is Frederick Warde, the well-known tragedian, who essays the role of the cold, selfish millionaire and who learns at length that the rich man who does not love and who is unloved, is at best, the poorest man on earth. The photoplay, which is to be presented at the New Park Theatre today and tomorrow, is filled with numerous thrilling incidents, and the climaxes are dramatic.

HENRY WOLFER KILLED IN WEST

Prominent Gopher Penologist Won World Fame as Penitentiary Designer—Killed in Auto Accident

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—Henry Wolfer, builder of the Minnesota state penitentiary at Stillwater and for twenty-one years warden of the institution, was killed instantly in an automobile accident 150 miles north of Los Angeles, according to a dispatch received here.

Mr. Wolfer, who has been living at Long Beach, Cal., was on an automobile trip to an oil field near Alcazaro, 200 miles north of Los Angeles. He was accompanied by three men who were trying to interest him in an oil field.

Pinned Beneath Wheel The automobile was forced from the road on a mountain grade while attempting to pass a heavily loaded truck. Wolfer was pinned beneath the steering wheel of the machine when it turned over. One other man was slightly injured, the others escaping unhurt.

Where the Lazy Thrive.

Perhaps, among the happiest people in the world, are the Ekor of Southern Nigeria, on the equator. Here they pay no taxes, and a few weeks' labor will supply them with food, clothes and a home for a year, thanks to the fruitful land. These people have a superstition that little children love sweet words, kind looks and gentle voices, and if the family into which they have been reincarnated is quarrelsome, they will forsake the earth until the chance offers to return again amid more peaceful surroundings. Dancing is one of their main occupations, and on all great festivals, the chief societies of men, women and children come up to the station to give a series of dances.

"Gee-Whiz! How it Hurts!"
→ The Pain in My Foot!

"Sometimes it is in my arm. Merciful Heaven, how my back hurts in the morning!" It's all due to an overabundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is "keep the kidneys in good order."

Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric. This can be obtained at almost any drug store. Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, take heed, before too late. Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package.

BECOMING VEILS AND STYLE

Face Coverings Bought by Yard and Worn With Small Hat Super-sede Scroll Designs.

For the sort of veil that is bought by the yard and worn with a small hat, the geometric patterns have superseded the scroll designs which have now outgrown their popularity. Some excellent designs are composed of hexagonal figures in heavy and thin threads combined. Shades of brown are very much liked, for the day in which women thought that a veil must be either white or black is long since over.

A very practical veil for a woman who is past her first youth is the sort in which the pattern is concentrated on the lower edge to the depth of about three inches. When the veil is well adjusted the accommodating pattern hides either an incipient double chin or a neck which is too thin and beginning to grow wrinkled. If a veil in which a figure is scattered over a plain surface is chosen, care must be taken in adjusting it so that the figure is advantageously placed.

The New Silk. "Jeanne d'Arc" is the name of a new and lovely silk, so called because of its resemblance to chain armor. The fabric is threaded with gold or silver metal and is particularly smart, when made into a vestee for the tailored suit. This material comes in pastel shades, in navy blue, and in black also.

Voted favorably on the application for membership of the following: Dr. Irving Baudeaux, Franz R. N. Anderson and Andrew Gierke. Considered alleged poor service in delivery of metropolitan dailies in this city.

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening, following the club dinner, proved one of the most interesting and profitable of the early winter and was attended by approximately one hundred progressive citizens.

The menu, cooked under the direction of the West cafe, was up to the standard of former dinners and was served by the House and Social committee, cafeteria style, with dispatch and careful attention to the wants of those present.

Constructive work marked the meeting, as indicated in the summary leading this report.

Round table discussions of matters relating to the growth and prosperity of the city, followed the transaction of the business of the organization.

New Ideas

The report of the secretary on the conference of commercial club secretaries in St. Paul, was heard with much interest, many new ideas relative to the conduct of commercial club work being suggested.

How to finance and cash in on conventions, duties of a secretary and his relations to successful committee work, collection of dues, duties of members in the work of the organization, the housing problem and how to meet it and other problems confronting the average chamber of commerce, were discussed by the secretary.

Opens the "Pep" Box

In closing his remarks, Mr. Lincoln said:

"Let us do away with the custom of calling this organization THEIR club; we must make it OUR club, ours in personal interest and effort, ours because of OUR attention to the work it has to do and ours because we BELIEVE IN IT as the community center of this city and county."

"Let us give 'George' a rest and make it OUR duty and OUR privilege to do and strive for the best city in the best county, in the best state in the greatest union of states the sun ever shone upon. We will get out of this chamber just what we put into it—remember the story of the wheatfield: 'You will get out of me in exact proportion to the seed energy and brains you put in.'"

A Quick Sale

Mr. Lincoln's efforts to "Sell Brainerd" proved a success, judging from the action of the organization in the consideration of community matters, and his ability to inject "pep" into the organization when it appears most needed, as manifested in his

OBJECT TO THE DIVERSION OF COAL

A movement headed by President W. O. Washburn, president of the Minnesota Employers Association, is objecting to the diversion of coal supplies from Minnesota to Illinois and other states.

It is argued the supply at Duluth is not adequate to carry other states too, and protests are being filed. R. R. Wise his morning received telegrams on the need of conserving coal in Minnesota, as did the Chamber of Commerce.

COAL SUPPLY IN BRAINERD

Rationing in Progress So That all Families Will Receive Their Quota When Needed

INDUSTRIES ARE OPERATING

Northern Pacific Railway Shops Have Independent Supply—Conditions on Range

From the Brainerd statement of the coal situation, it should not be gathered that Brainerd is basking in plenty. In its palmiest days it never did have more than six days' supplies on hand. At present good train service is keeping it in coal rations. But let a blizzard tie up train service and the town would soon suffer severely.

The coal situation in Brainerd is not one to cause apprehension or alarm.

The city's coal supply is being maintained by regular shipments and the court house, jail, pump station and other public utilities are being supplied. The big laundry gets its ratio. The schools have a supply on hand.

Rationing under government regulations is in effect and in some cases poor families are being taken care of by the city council poor committee.

The Northern Pacific railway shops have an independent supply. The gas company is receiving its supply.

The water power company is fairly well supplied. The latter furnishes Brainerd with electric light and power and the company only uses coal during breaks or should the water run low. There is a fair head of water now.

On the Cuyuna iron range the large mines are fairly well stocked with coal. Rationing is in effect and coal is coming in slowly to Crosby. Some hard coal is on hand, but soft coal, said W. C. Deering of the Dower Lumber Co., is practically stripped.

Mines operating at Crosby and vicinity are the Croft, Mencham and the Inland Steel Co. mines.

FILE REMONSTRANCE

South Cass Citizens Petition Against Proposed Link in Black Diamond Trail

(Pillager Herald)

A remonstrance petition containing over one hundred names of freeholders in Pillager and vicinity and a new petition for a new route were sent to County Auditor Bacon at Walker by S. E. Parks who was in charge of the circulating of the petitions. One petition was a remonstrance to the district engineer in the surveying of the Black Diamond trail from Pillager east to connect with the Brainerd road at the Cass-Crow Wing line just east of Gull River.

Several weeks ago a crew was here and surveyed out a route running east from Pillager as a part of the Black Diamond trail between the state highway running north of Motley and Brainerd.

The route proposed was as follows: Beginning on the section line road one mile west of Pillager at the railroad crossing, following east along the north side of the railroad right-of-way, passing through the Mayfield yard and coursing through the wood yard to the potato warehouses, continuing east along the track following and crossing the Pillager creek and continuing just outside of the right-of-way the entire distance through to the Crow Wing county line.

The petition explained that such would be too costly and yet not a practical route. It would necessitate narrowing the road or moving buildings in Pillager; it would take such a long strip of land on several farms as to spoil them to a big extent; it would mean a new road bed the entire distance; it would mean considerable expense in filling the overflow and bridging Gull River. There is a wide expanse of deep water, with muddy bottom here and would mean a useless outlay of several thousands of dollars for this item alone.

The new petition, on the other hand, asks that the road cross the track at Gull River and follow the present route, crossing Gull River on the south side of the track, keeping on the present route and crossing Sylvan prairie on the present road. The road here for two miles can be built with little cost. The road would then continue on west through Sylvan and follow the south side of the track crossing Pillager creek as at present. Only one or two small slough holes of little importance would be crossed between Sylvan and this place. At Pillager creek a new road would be built along the river bank connecting with the state road at the creamery, passing through the village west at the Swanson corner. This road would necessitate crossing the track twice only between Brainerd and Staples, a distance of over thirty miles, and with good views at both places.

The latter appears to be the far better and cheapest route to build by a wide margin, and the petitioners (the men who pay the taxes) are not going to stand by idly and let an impractical costly route be forced on them if they can help it.

The matter will come up at the next meeting of the county commissioners and we trust they will see their way clear to heed the petitions sent in, and order a new survey be made over the route proposed in the petition.

Woman Stage Director Who Overcame Kicks About a "Lady Boss"

The first woman stage director has made good. She is Mrs. Lillian Trimble Bradley, recently appointed general stage director for George Broadbent, the New York producer. Within the last few months she has put on two plays. At first the actors, stage hands and electricians did not like the idea of having a "lady boss" but Mrs. Bradley's methods soon won them over.

Should Be Remembered. Many people should remember that service, not self-service, was one great lesson of the war.

DO YOU KNOW MR. KELLER?

The hand is quicker than the eye and so is the typewriter.
Fifteen years ago, some of you may remember, there were two great magicians appearing before the American public. Hermann the Great and Keller the Magician. Although rivals they were great friends. They were sitting together at Brighton Beach one day, when an admirer of Hermann's came up and started to tell the latter how good he was.
"You know," he said, "that I am something of an amateur slight of hand expert myself. I am sure no one but yourself could have deceived me with that card trick you did last night."
"Oh," said Hermann modestly, "that is a very simple trick. Any one could do it. I venture to say this gentleman sitting right here could deceive you with it."
"I'll bet a hundred dollars he could not," said the amateur and Hermann took the bet.
A deck of cards was brought and Keller performed the trick with ease and grace.
"I guess you don't know my friend Mr. Keller," said Hermann as he pocketed the hundred.
When any slight of hand promoter wants to sell you wild cat stocks, or to exchange something he says is sure to make you thousands for every dollar you put up, for your Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, you had better find out whether you know Mr. Keller.
A prospectus and a promise is all the equipment these fakery require. With that simple apparatus they can make oils wells spout where there is not enough oil to lubricate a watch; they can find gold where there is not enough yellow metal to plate a profiteer's conscience; they can make rubber plantations flourish in countries where the natives are the only things that stretch.
If a man has $10.00 salary, he may be able to afford to take a chance. If he has less than that amount he cannot afford to lose.
You know there is no trick about government savings securities. You KNOW they are safe, that they are profitable and that you can exchange your War Savings Stamps and Savings Certificates for cash at a profit when you need it.
If you think the slight of hand men cannot fool you, meet Mr. Keller.

BEYOND PUNY MAN

Before Volcanic Eruptions He Is Helpless.

Fact Made Manifest by the Indifference Which He Goes About His Business After the Disasters Have Passed.

Under no circumstances does man show to less advantage than when a volcano sends forth its torrents. As a figure of speech, man may consider himself to be a puny creature, but his working opinion of himself is by no means so small. In Java the earth groaned, and 15,000 people were wiped out of existence like so many ants. Perhaps only 10,000 were killed; perhaps it was 20,000. No one will ever know; no one will ever be concerned in the matter beyond the desire to arrive at a reasonable guess as to the loss of life. It will always be a vague question, to be discussed in round numbers. The Javanese who perished were indeed puny creatures, whose memory will be nothing more than a mathematical approximation.

As far back as man has a history there are details of volcanic eruption to testify to the haphazard, unworkmanlike fashion in which this world of ours was made. Pompeii and Herculaneum are household words to people who do not know where Vesuvius stands, but Stabiae, which was engulfed with them, seems to have escaped literary notice. Between Vesuvius and Pelee there are few who have any knowledge of the volcanic catastrophes that have suddenly overwhelmed thousands of human beings. Messina still lingers vague in the public mind, and Pelee, by reason of its comparatively close proximity, can be recalled, although one must ordinarily consult books of reference to determine whether the loss of life was 20,000 or 300,000. The Krakatoa eruption, which took place in 1883 on the Sunda sea not far from the Kalut explosion, has been studied for years by scientists, but the fact that 30,000 persons were killed is an inconsequential detail. The Krakatoa explosion is not remembered because it caused 30,000 deaths, but because it occasioned some puzzling atmospheric phenomena. Soufriere, a neighbor of Mount Pelee, has a long record of disaster, in which the mortality figures are usually overlooked. The fact that this explosion was heard in South America, while it was not heard at distances of 20 miles, is considered of much more importance. Soufriere, it may be recalled, was in eruption at the same time as Mount Pelee, but on this occasion it killed less than 1,500 persons. Perhaps for this reason it is never mentioned.

Before the volcano man stands helpless, and he recognizes this fact by his indifference. He buries his dead and goes about his business. As in the case of the Messina disaster, he only waits for the ground to cool, when he goes to work imperturbably raising his crops on the dangerous mountainside. In the meantime he tries to gratify his taste for information by studying volcanoes, but without any hope of being able to protect himself.
